ORDER OF THE EASTERN STAR.

The Reports Show It to Be in a Flourishing Condition—Delegates Entertained.

At Masonic Hall, yesterday morning, the sixth triennial session of the General Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star was held. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read, showing that the order is in a flourishing financial condition, with $4,000 on hand, and with a membership roll of 35,000. The committee on amendments of the constitution and general legislation reported on various matters of importance, which were referred to other committees to report upon at to-day's session. An adjournment was then taken until this morning at 11 o'clock.

Last night, in commemoration of this session, Queen Esther Chapter, No. 3, tendered a reception, with a musical and literary programme. One of the features of the evening was the reading of an original poem by Mrs. A. C. S. Engle, descriptive of the Eastern Star work and illustrated with pleasing tableaux.

Starting at 9 o'clock this morning, the members will drive around the city, visiting several places of interest.

NEW CARPETS

— AT —

ALBERT GALL'S.

A difficult problem is now agitating our house-furnishing public, "With what shall we cover the floor?" to the solution of which I have been bending my energies, and am now prepared to show the results.

My stock has been selected with greatest care, and there is no grade which does not bear evidence of a most discriminating choice, comprising only the best designs of eminent artistic colorists, and, I believe, cannot be surpassed.

My Body Brussels repeat many of the effects wrought in finer fabrics, less expensive, but almost as effective, being manufactured by home industry.

My Tapestry Carpets are in excellent varieties of patterns.

My Kidderminster, which are the best 2-ply Carpets made, copied from leading Brussels patterns, some of which are really artistic, and all durable.

I have Oriental Rugs in large and small sizes, for libraries, parlors, hearths and doorways, made especially for me, and not to be had elsewhere, made in colorings harmonizing or contrasting with any style of decoration.

By no means least is the subject of draping, for on this depends the harmony of a room, secured by the proper selection of tones and design, or marred by the contrary.

I have a collection of Silks, comprising all styles, Gothic, Twelfth Century, Italian, early English, Louis IV, Jacobean, Japanese, Moorish, and many others which I have not space to mention, but always have time to show. Many of them are imported, some designed especially for me, and some the work of the Associated Artists, whose merits I can not sufficiently emphasize. The harmonious blending of colorings, dainty fancies, delicacy of execution, richness of effects of these fabrics, defy description. I will, however, be pleased to verify my statements, if you will call and examine.

I also have some rare designs in Scotch and Irish Point and Brussels Lace Curtains; also, in less expensive Nottingham.

In enumerating the above I do not desire to convey the impression that I have only the finer qualities of the goods mentioned, as my stock is comprehensive and embraces all varieties of Carpets from 25c per yard up, and Lace Curtains from 50c a pair up. I am, indeed, prepared to satisfy all demands.

To Match Everything in all Grades.
